Dear families,

On Thursday 28th March we will be opening our doors to you and yours with an invitation to come and see all the amazing work the children have produced for their Working as Historians project. The showcase will take place between 1.30 - 3pm.

In 2017, Norwich-based theatre company The Common Lot performed Come Yew In! which told the amazing story of 900 years of migration into Norwich. The company produced a songbook which brought together the songs that were inspired by these incredible stories from Norwich's rich, multicultural history. We took three of the songs and used authentic, historical research skills to uncover the truth behind the songs. The family showcase will give you the opportunity to find out more. At this point we don't know exactly what the children's responses will look like, but early indications promise a wide range of informative, creative and powerful responses. Please book the date in your diary.

Hopefully the children will be telling you about the Schools Research Conference which is taking place on Wednesday 27th March (the day before). Wensum Junior School will be hosting the event and we are delighted to announce that we will be joined by Y4 children from Avenue Junior School. Please note that this event is for school children and staff only.

If you have any questions, then please come and see me on the gate. In the meantime, please follow our Historians blog which can be accessed via the blog tab on the school website homepage.

Yours sincerely,

Peter Hubery
